Over the Desktop

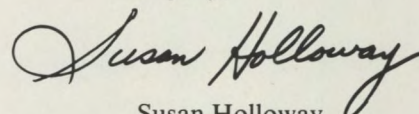

When I was in college, during rush, the women in my chapter talked a lot about not overlooking the unpolished stones. We were referring to the rushees who were outstanding young women with good potential, but a few rough edges. (Looking back, I'm not sure how anyone just graduating from high school cannot have at least a few rough edges.)

But the point was that the chapter was aware that not everyone has the same ability to present themselves, especially under pressure. And we knew that real substance doesn't always look or act the same. We were looking for bright, interesting young women who had the potential to contribute to our chapter and we knew that, in turn, Theta could help them smooth out the "rough spots" to help them become the best they could be. All of this is not to say that we weren't delighted with those who were already quite polished (and there were, amazingly, quite a few). But I think it was healthy of us to discuss the fact that we wanted and needed women who were more than just superficially acceptable.

I was, and am, proud of my chapter for looking beyond the obvious. And, I've always been grateful, too. Who knows? If they hadn't been willing to look with care, maybe I would never have been a Theta. And I am convinced that if I hadn't, I would have missed out on a great deal. Not just friends and sisters and good times, but genuine caring, positive role models and real support in endeavors I might not have considered otherwise.

I now know that my chapter wasn't and isn't the only one to rush with honesty and care. That's at least part of the reason that Theta is what she is: strong and proud; supportive and innovative; working to be the best she can be, so we can be the best we can be. Thanks, Theta.

Reach for the stars. It means doing your best, being yourself—being your best self. It's what being a Theta is all about. It means being committed, to excellence and to others. It means working hard for what you want and for what you believe in. And it means being an individual, while also being part of a group of dynamic, capable and caring women.

Rush is a special time to reach for the stars. For rushees, it means looking for Theta and Theta's star qualities: scholastic excellence, positive social influence, leadership development and sincere sisterhood. For collegians, it means conducting the best, most honest rush possible: looking for new, committed members to carry on Theta tradition by presenting what you're really about. And for alumnae, it means helping Theta college chapters find those special rushees by writing recommendations and supporting the chapters throughout rush.

Rush: Reach for the stars!

Rush

REACH FOR THE STARS

Collegians

The key to successful rushing is giving an honest picture of who we really are as Thetas. It is discovering what we have that is unique and strong and appealing to women of the '80s and '90s. When rush is over and the pledges begin becoming a part of the chapter, they should find that what they saw during rush is what they will continue to see each time they are with their sisters.

Discover your chapter's unique character

Every chapter is unique! Every chapter has its own personality! Every chapter can begin with its own Theta heritage and share how that heritage has molded women on its campus—in its own unique situation—into a sisterhood of which every member can be proud. To discover that uniqueness is the first challenge for good rushing. What are the interests, talents, ideas, personalities of the members of the chapter? What does the chapter do together? What impact has the chapter made on the campus? What are the chapter goals? Who are the chapter's role models? All these are components of who the chapter really is.

Know your rushees

Once the unique character of the chapter has been identified, the next step is to discover who the rushees will be. What are their needs? How can Theta help them achieve their goals? An important trend in campus demographics that affects rushing strategy is the changing nature of rushees. Studies tell us that we are being confronted with a new type of college student who is older, more seriously concerned with academics, more involved in campus activities that demand time, and more selective in social activities. These are the women of the '80s and '90s who we must involve in Fraternity life if our chapters are to continue to thrive in the coming decades.

Develop a creative, honest rushing approach

We must creatively develop ways to bring together the unique character of our chapters and the special makeup of the rushees we want to attract. We must find our own mix of old and new rush strategies. What elements of traditional rushing is the chapter comfortable with? And what is likely to appeal to the rushee we want to attract? Skits and songs may be necessary to some extent, but these should be adapted to feel comfortable to chapter members and to rushees as well.

Honest, one-on-one conversations about goals, ideas and education are wonderful alternatives to superficial chat. Actually planning and executing a project during rush can be a graphic illustration of the service aspect of Theta chapter life. Proudly presenting Theta's scholarship standards and the scholarly achievements of individual members shows the more serious side of Theta and can attract the more dedicated, scholarly rushee.

There is no easy way to rush well, no magic formula for success. Whatever strategy we develop, we must realize that practice, growth, learning and hard work are all necessary to be able to rush well. Whatever the content, whatever the method, members need time to make rush their own and to feel comfortable with the skills of rushing.

Be your best self

Are we who we say we are? Only if we are honestly presenting the deeper, most valuable aspects of Theta and our sisterhood. I challenge each chapter to discover your unique self, to identify the new rushees on your campus, to be creative in finding ways to present that self to those rushees, and to work harder to make rushing comfortable for each member. If you are successful in the first, the last will follow naturally.

Don't settle for the superficial. Honest rushing deepens all of chapter life and offers the best beginning to "Theta for a lifetime." Be your best self, and show that best self during rush!

Membership

Alumnae

What can you, a Theta alumna, do to help Theta reach for the stars during rush? Here are just a few ideas.

Get involved in your local

Theta alumnae chapter or club. Volunteer to help a nearby college chapter during rush. Tell an outstanding young woman you know about the benefits of Theta membership. Write a recommendation for her. Reach for the stars! See the details, below.

Directions for use of Membership Recommendations

ALUMNAE:

1. Write recommendation on Membership Recommendation form. (See page 7.)
2. Complete form as fully as possible.
3. Include a photo of the rushee if possible.
4. Send the form to the Rush Recommendation Board Chairman who covers the rushee's community. (See page 21.)
5. Tell the young woman for whom you've written the recommendation about the advantages of Fraternity membership even though she may be undecided about going through rush.

COLLEGIANS:

Refer to the 1987-1988 Rush Personnel Roster and current supplements.

RUSH RECOMMENDATION BOARDS:

Send recommendation with the board's evaluations and chairman's signature to the college chapter's recommendation chairman or rush adviser. (See page 17.)

AUTHORIZED RUSH REPRESENTATIVES:

Send recommendation with signature, on the back of the form, to the college chapter's recommendation chairman or rush adviser. (See page 17.)

Recommendation forms are available from Central Office or your local Rush Recommendation Board. Or you may use the recommendation form printed in this issue on page 7. (If you need additional forms, please have the form copied at your local printer.)

Please send recommendations by July 15 for chapters with fall rush, and by August 15 for chapters with deferred rush. (See page 17.)

Legacy Introduction Form

Complete this form and send it to the Theta chapter on the campus your legacy plans to attend. Please send it as soon as possible after your legacy makes her college choice. (See page 30 for college chapter addresses.)

Please remember that this introduction does not take the place of a recommendation.

Message from the PRESIDENT

Ah summer, that time when life slows down to the speed of light! What ever happened to those "lazy, hazy days of summer." When I was growing up, we used to lay on our backs in the sweet, summer grass and look at cloud formations in the sky, making plans for all those wonderful things we were going to do when we grew up.

Well, we did grow up, and now we can't keep up. Now, we are career women, wives, mothers, daughters with older parents, friends of those who need our emotional support, and sisters of Thetas who need our time and whatever energy we have left. It's easy to understand why Theta is not a priority in every Theta's life. The wonder is that it is a priority in anyone's life. But it is for many members because of what Theta meant to them.

We need you to spend a little time for Theta now. This is our membership issue, with information about the approaching rush on college campuses, and we need your help to make this process work. Rush registration numbers are up on most campuses because women still need and want the companionship and support of Greek membership. Our college members need your help in highlighting those women from your hometown who will make good Thetas. That's not to say they will all become Thetas, because rush is a mutually selective process with both the chapters and the rushees making choices. Without your recommendations, however, our collegians may not have the special opportunity to get to know the women you want to be Thetas.

Won't you try to squeeze one

TCP really works!

Here's living proof that the Theta Connection Program works! Through the TCP, Selina Jackson (Kappa '88), landed an internship with the Republican National Committee in Washington, D.C. Joanna Ashworth (Beta Lambda '84), the special events director for the state and local department at the RNC, submitted her name and profession to the TCP. Selina, a pre-law student majoring in political science and history at Kansas University, was interested in spending a semester in D.C. in order to gain practical political knowledge of how our government works. Looking through the TCP, Selina contacted Joanna, who was screening applicants for a spring semester internship. Selina was chosen on her academic merits and political experience (and her Theta connection).

Interestingly, both Joanna and Selina served as vice president, pledge education of their respective chapters. Currently, Joanna, an alumna of William and Mary, is an active member of the Theta alumnae club in Northern Virginia.

During her internship, Selina was privileged to participate in a variety of exciting activities, including the U.S. Conference of Mayors winter meeting, where she had the opportunity to meet many important Republican mayors. Also, Selina contributed to planning a symposium where she met legislative leaders, members of Congress and key Republican political experts.

In the spring, Joanna and Selina traveled to William and Mary to visit the Theta chapter house. Currently, Selina is planning to return to Kansas for her senior year. But we know she will never forget her wonderful semester in Washington, D.C., thanks to the TCP!

Perspectives on life reflect ways of facing death

Betsy Moss was a teacher. Her talent was so great that it enabled her to reach both the young and the old. She taught children in hospitals the magic of Crayolas, and first year medical students at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York the meaning of compassion.

Moss, a biology major from Mamaroneck, N.Y., touched many lives by her 21st year—the year she died of cancer.

It was also the year she taught her friends—her sisters at Kappa Alpha Theta sorority—one of life's most difficult lessons: how to cope with the death of a loved one. And more importantly, how to live on.

* * *

A loss of any kind, whether it be the breakup of a relationship, the loss of a job or the death of a friend, often sets off a predictable pattern of behavior, or stages, said graduate student Lynne Familant, program coordinator of Lifelines. Lifelines is a peer education program that deals with mental health issues.

"The less you expect the loss, the greater the emotional grief one suffers when it actually happens," Familant said. She explained this is often why college students in particular suffer terribly, because they never expect death to take one of their peers.

"Stage one is characterized by denial—the person suffering denies that the death actually took place," Familant said of the first of four stages that make up the bereavement process.

If, however, those left behind expect the death, it is often much easier to accept, Familant said. Moss provided this buffer, this preparatory grief, for her friends.

"Betsy was so open about everything," senior Shari Diamond, one of Moss' sorority sisters, said. "She would talk about her illness, her chemotherapy, she would tell you everything. Sometimes she was so blunt about it that it made you squirm. But after a while you knew she was being honest, and that helped us understand what she was going through."

"When I first found out about it I thought, 'How could you take somebody like Betsy away?'" said senior Joan Hastings, another sister. "She was so special, so young and healthy. Why her? It really hit home when one of my friends said, 'We're 21. We should be going to weddings, not funerals.'"

A loss of any kind, whether it be the breakup of a relationship, the loss of a job or the death of a friend, often sets off a predictable pattern of behavior.

In learning to accept the death of a loved one, people often seek out the advice of those who come in contact with grief regularly and sympathetically, like clergy.

"How could God do something like this?" That kind of question is needed so they can vent out that sense of rage," said Richard Phillips, dean of Hendricks Chapel. "Depression is something else I often encounter, a depression that results from knowing that you could do nothing to prevent the death, a sense of powerlessness."

From powerlessness, the next step is equally difficult: dealing with overpowering emotions.

"All throughout the funeral services I saw everybody else crying for Betsy," Diamond said. "I didn't. It wasn't until I saw Betsy's casket being lowered into the grave—that's when my tears went."

"People often feel they have to 'be strong'—they tell themselves, 'Don't cry, don't cry.' You have to let your emotions run free."

"Death is such an individual thing," senior Lauren Veis, Moss' sorority sister said. "There is no set way on how you should act. You really have to let your feelings run their natural course."

Emotions should be released, Familant agreed.

"It is this second stage when people are stripped of their intellectual veneer and left with nothing but their bare emotions," Familant said. "You just have no control over this stage."

Familant explained that during this time people often refuse to eat and lose contact with other aspects of their daily routine.

"It's a terribly draining time, and it only ends when you've completely exhausted yourself, cried yourself out."

Even when tear ducts have been exhausted, the challenge of coming to grips with loss continues.

"I remember after Betsy died, all I could think about was the things I meant to tell her but never got the chance to," Veis said. "If I could just have had a little more time."

The realization that time is a commodity more precious than gold signifies the start of the third stage involved in accepting death.

"Such requests for just another half hour with that person, just another five minutes are very common," Familant said. "They beg for this time to make amends, to say or do the things they always meant to do but never did."

Joanie Schwarz

This often results in guilt, along with a bittersweet look back at the little things.

"All the things that person did which you took for granted suddenly become very evident," Familant said. "Questions like, 'Who am I going to go out with?' or 'Who's going to balance the checkbook?' are common.

"It takes a long time to get over this," Familant said. "Especially in the death of a spouse or a best friend, it's not unusual that this stage alone, lasts for a year or so.

As painful a stage as any other, it nonetheless must be overcome as a means of carrying on with life and often calls for special consideration from friends and family.

"It's very important to remember that this stage is more of a mental process than an emotional one," Familant cautioned. "Just because the person suffering is no longer bearing a tear-stained face, doesn't mean everything is okay. It's especially during this stage that you should make yourself available just in case they want to talk."

Talking about and meditating about the loved one lost, signals the fourth and final stage in coping with the death of a friend: the realization of a great and meaningful loss. "The final stage is attained when the person suffering realizes that he has lost something of great value, that it is irreplaceable," Familant said. "But at the same time realizes that he has gained something very special, a feeling of 'that person was and still is a part of my life.'"

Those who mourn the loss of their friend and sorority sister Betsy Moss remember countless stories attesting to the special way she touched many lives.

Moss shared her smile and her warmth with a dying young boy at Mount Sinai Hospital, even when her body ached and needed rest.

When her mother, Rolinda Moss, pleaded with her to save her strength Betsy replied, "But Ma, he has no one while I have you to take care of me."

The weekend before her last operation, Moss taught an art class to the children in her hospital, even though that meant she had to drag her oxygen tank and mask with her.

When Moss was told that she needed an operation on her 21st birthday, she bargained with her doctors to delay the operation by one day. And when that failed, she decided to celebrate anyway. She put a bow on her belly button for the operating room staff to see when they took off her gown.

"The way she (Betsy) handled herself through all this may seem remarkable to you and me, but apparently it was normal for her," Familant said.

Hastings recalled that Moss always did whatever she could to break the ice in various difficult situations. "That was Betsy, always the one with such vigor for life."

There is a way to determine how someone will cope with his or her death. "The way you deal with death is the way you deal with life," Familant said. "If you're the type of person who's going to make the best of things, turn things into a positive light, that's the way you'll treat death. (From what I understand) that's the kind of person Betsy was, and that's why she behaved the way she did. It wasn't the way she handled death that made her so unique. It was the way she handled life."

A caring teacher to the end, Moss considered life to be precious in itself—and shared this view with those she loved.

"When I spoke with Betsy at Thanksgiving, she reminded me that we have a lot to be thankful for," Hastings said. "She told me that it's not love and family and friends that are life's greatest gifts; but that life itself is the greatest gift. The others are luxuries we're often given too short of a time to appreciate."

"Betsy taught many people that there is never a wrong time to thank a friend for being a friend," she continued. "During that same conversation she told me to hang up, then call my mother just to tell her I love her. Then to call my best friend and say the same thing. That's what Betsy taught me."

Letter to Stephanie: A Mother's Memories

January 9, 1987

Dear Stephanie,

Has it really been a year since you left us to join God in His heaven? There hasn't been a day that you haven't been with me: beautiful memories intertwined with pain and grieving. I cannot avoid thinking today of the more than two months you and I spent in Pittsburgh. After carrying that beeper around for almost a year, awaiting the call to come to Pittsburgh, we finally went to the city of your salvation to receive "Lucy Liver." We were aware of the dangers, but uppermost was that marvelous Haines optimism that you would prevail and conquer all. You were so wonderful; such incredible spirit!

For 19 years we were blessed with your feisty, lovable, sparkling personality, despite an illness that had its onset when you were just three weeks old. You became jaundiced and were hospitalized at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago for "biliary atresia," caused by a bile duct blockage. When you were five weeks old the surgeons removed a cyst. A miracle occurred. We brought you home and soon put behind us any more concerns as each medical report brought good news.

But our fears resurfaced when you were 12, and jaundice returned. Surgery was performed in August, 1978, and doctors found the ducts were again blocked. But this time the surgical procedure was different. Because new medical advances had been made, a bile duct by-pass was done. Once again we went home feeling reassured.

However, when you were 15, a liver biopsy test showed that cirrhosis had reared its ugly head. From that point on we knew that some day we would be looking for the miracle of a transplant. We somehow felt it would be a long way off.

You continued with normal high school activities: friends, dances, choir, musical presentations, and a particularly active involvement in church and youth groups. Your freshman year at Hope College in Holland, Mich., was such a complete joy to you, even though it was interrupted in December by a trip to Pittsburgh for the necessary evaluation preceding a transplant. It was so hard for you not to return to Hope for your sophomore year. But after two hospitalizations in October for internal bleeding, we were off to Pittsburgh and the Presbyterian University Hospital.

The hospital was a world all its own. The atmosphere was good for you, because others were there who had received their transplants, and you were encouraged by them. You needed that comradeship to pull you through the early, very painful tests. And, of course, you, and the other liver patients, had insomnia to add to your weakened physical state. We waited and waited for a "small, O-positive" liver, thinking

When a College Chapter Loses a Member

College is traditionally a time for beginnings, not endings. But what happens when a young member of a college chapter dies? How does the chapter deal with her loss?

For Epsilon Lambda Chapter at Dickinson College, the death of a member meant tremendous emotional stress, but it ultimately brought the members closer.

In December, 1985, Epsilon Lambda member Christine Allison Major died. Major had struggled with leukemia for about eight months, but the illness progressed very rapidly near the end.

"The chapter was shocked," says Epsilon Lambda senior Glynis Morgan. "Some members were completely devastated. Others just sat back and didn't know what to say or do."

According to Clinical Psychologist Christine Ward, a variety of reactions to a death is normal. She says, "The stages of loss are a good general guideline, but it's important to recognize that everyone does not experience grief in the same way."

Morgan says her chapter tried not to expect the same reaction from all members. "We tried to be aware that everyone was dealing with the loss differently, so that each person got the attention she needed. The most important thing we did was just to be there for each other."

Talking about the loss is essential. Says Ward, "Don't edit your feelings or those of others. They need to be admitted."

In January of 1986, a memorial service was held for Major and another Dickinson student who had recently died. "It was very helpful because everyone could let it all out," says Morgan. "I think it strengthened our chapter."

But the real turning point in Epsilon Lambda's grieving came when they held a fireside at which they discussed Major's death.

"We talked about how we wanted to keep the memory of Chris alive. She was a very dedicated, but not outspoken, leader of our chapter. We decided to begin the Chris Major Outstanding Senior Award. Every year the seniors in our chapter vote for a senior member they believe is outstanding, in an obvious, or maybe not so obvious, way."

The award is especially significant because Epsilon Lambda wanted something useful to come from the death of their sister, and they believe it has. Says Morgan, "Our chapter, even the new members who didn't know Chris, will never forget her. She was a very special member."

each day that today would be the day.

Thanksgiving arrived, as did the whole family: your sisters and brothers-in-law Alison, Hal, Debbie, Mark; and your hero, Dad. What a grand celebration we had!

Early December 3, after everyone had returned home, the hospital announced that since a liver had not been found for you, and your internal bleeding had stopped, you would have to leave the hospital. I tried to comfort you in your complete devastation and began looking for an apartment. I put myself completely in God's hands.

At 3:30 p.m., that same day, Dr. Thomas Starzl and the transplant coordinator came into your already packed-up room and announced that a liver had been found and you would be transplanted that night. Oh, how we sobbed together. From the depths of despair to unbelievable joy!

After the transplant you were on top of the world. You were so happy and telling anyone who could listen that, "It was a piece of cake!" And, yes, "Lucy Liver" did work, but your immune system just couldn't fight the virus that attacked.

I arrived in Pittsburgh a stranger and departed with new loving friends. It is good to be able to look back now and remember the warmth and concern of the Those Who Wait volunteers who did so much to help. They found homes for people to stay in. (We were both thankful for the Mel Hendersons and the Tony Schruyers who provided my homes-away-from-home.) Other Those Who Wait volunteers picked me up at the hospital each evening and returned me early the next morning. They visited the hospital; they sent treats; they cared!

Do you remember the day I walked around the University of Pittsburgh campus and discovered the Theta chapter house? I went in and was treated very cordially by the girls. Soon after, I was called by Sally Reinhold, a Pittsburgh Kappa Alpha Theta alumna, who had been contacted by my Theta and PEO sister Mary Edith Arnold. Sally, who was also involved in the Those Who Wait program, took us under her wing: checked on you; sent cookies; saw that I left the hospital occasionally for lunch, brunch, or just a quick visit. I have always been proud to be a Theta, but never more than at that time.

Yes, Stephanie, I can begin to look back now and remember all the special friends and tender loving care. I can focus on being grateful for many things, like the powerful love of our family and friends that I know supported and comforted you. I am grateful for the warm relationship you had with our minister, Steve Pierce. I know how important it was to you that he was at your bedside with your family after the transplant and again those last days when we all needed him.

I can still see you the summer of 1984 as Alison's beautiful and caring maid of honor. I can still see you sparkle when you talked about your visits with Debbie and her family in Michigan while you were at Hope. Some of the last heart-breaking days are fading and in their place are so many beautiful memories: mostly of your indomitable spirit, love of all around you, and especially your faith and love of your God.

I miss you terribly, sweetheart, but you have taught me so much. And you are always in my heart.

Epsilon Chi installs at Guelph

The Canadian air was chill the weekend of Feb. 6, 1987, but spirits were warm at the University of Guelph as Theta's 112th chapter, Epsilon Chi, was installed with 21 members.

A special sisterhood was kindled when the new Theta members shared the events with Theta collegians and alumnae from across the United States and Canada, plus family and friends.

The University of Guelph is located in the southern part of Guelph, a city of about 78,000, which is 80 miles west of Toronto in Ontario. The University is attended by about 12,000 undergraduate students who appreciate its well-known combination of quality education and friendly atmosphere.

Epsilon Chi Chapter began at the University last year with a group of young women known as the Guelph Girls Group who petitioned to become a Theta chapter. The fledgling group was supported in their efforts by Gamma Epsilon Chapter at the University of Western Ontario in nearby London (celebrating their 50th anniversary this year) as well as many Toronto and area alumnae.

Early in their pledgship, the young women gathered for a retreat at which they had an opportunity to get to know one another better, and to learn more about Theta from Chapter Consultant Elizabeth Elsner.

Other highlights of the chapter's pledgship included a Halloween visit to the children's ward of a Guelph hospital; attending the installation dinner and dance for Beta Theta Pi, the only men's fraternity at Guelph; and an officer training workshop with local alumnae.

Epsilon Chi's installation weekend began with a loyalty service held at the Cutten Club, near the campus. At the reception which followed, the pledges, visiting alumnae and advisers introduced themselves and gifts were presented to the chapter. A very special gift was given to the new chapter by the Toronto Alumnae Chapter and the alumnae of Sigma Chapter: a historic wooden chest which belonged to Sigma Chapter, installed 100 years ago.

Epsilon Chi Charter President Anita Buckley at the chapter's installation banquet.

The installation of Epsilon Chi was held Feb. 7 at the Cutten Club. The installation team included: Grand President Sue Supple; Grand Vice President Janet Peters; Joyce Anne Vitelli, song chairman; Betty Britton, alumnae district president; Sandy Ebling, college district president; Elizabeth Elsner and Sara Bodensteiner, chapter consultants; Executive Director Marcia Bond; and Betsy Sierk, central office chapter services manager.

Epsilon Chi's new members met with alumnae for the charter service at which Grand President Sue Supple presided. Then, Saturday evening, collegians and alumnae were joined by family and friends for a festive installation banquet and dance. Final events on Sunday were a church service, model chapter meeting and luncheon-reception.

Although they are Theta's newest members, the women of Epsilon Chi already have a good idea of what Theta means to them: special friendships; meeting new and wonderful women; learning responsibility; and developing confidence and interpersonal skills. Epsilon Chi's Cheryl Witten perfectly expressed the feelings of her new sisters, "It simply feels good to be a Theta."

THETA TALK

A new, member-at-large group for Thetas without alumnae chapters or clubs

The alumnae committee is pleased to announce the formation of THETA TALK, a new, member-at-large group designed especially for Theta alumnae who do not have access to Fraternity meetings.

THETA TALK extends a welcome to all Theta alumnae who are geographically removed from participation in alumnae chapters or clubs, but who want to be actively linked with Theta.

The THETA TALK program will keep Theta news, projects, activities and experiences within your reach via a special THETA TALK newsletter. The newsletter will present a sharing of your interests, ideas, memories and current events.

There are many wonderful and caring Theta alumnae, both nationally and internationally, who do not have the opportunity to be involved in an alumnae chapter or club. If you are one of those Thetas, and are interested in becoming involved with THETA TALK, I hope you will take a moment to complete the form, below, and mail it to me. I trust that as THETA TALK grows, you will be a special and enthusiastic part of the Fraternity.

*Wilma Arbuckle, Alpha Xi
THETA TALK chairman*

THETA TALK

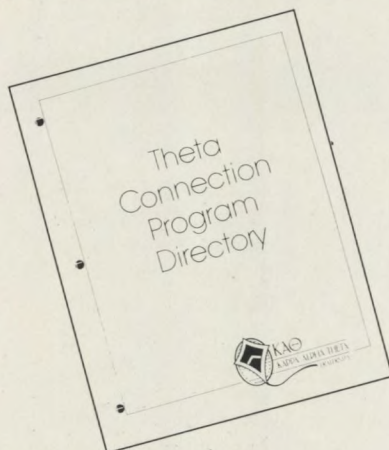

A new, member-at-large group for Thetas without alumnae chapters or clubs

If you would like to participate in THETA TALK, or if you know of a Theta who is interested, complete the form below and mail in an envelope addressed to: Wilma Arbuckle (Mrs. Bryan R.), 21467 Waterford Place, West Linn, OR 97068.

Make a Career Connection

Theta Connection Program Directory

The Theta Connection Program (TCP) was established in 1982 as a career resource network to connect job-seeking Thetas with professional Thetas. For the first four years, career data banks were compiled and maintained by Career Connectors in local alumnae organizations. In 1986, an international career data bank was established in the computer at Central Office, so we now have the capability of maintaining information about Theta professionals everywhere.

Using forms included in the 1986 Loyally in Theta Fund mailing and the 1986 Spring Magazine, more than 1,300 Thetas sent their career information for the data bank.

The first TCP DIRECTORY—a networking resource for Thetas entering the job market or moving to new locales—was published in time for the 1986 Grand Convention. The first edition of 500 was depleted by December 1, 1986. Since then, Central Office staff has filled almost 200 more orders. In less than a year, the career data bank at Central Office has doubled from 1,300 to 2,600 listings. The 1987 TCP DIRECTORY will be twice the size of the original when it is published in time for the 1987 Leadership Conference.

It is important for members using the directory to remember that TCP is not a job placement service, nor is it an advertising vehicle for individual Thetas' businesses. TCP is a career resource network, designed to put Thetas in personal contact with other Thetas. It is one more link in the chain of sisterhood.

THE TCP DIRECTORY CONTAINS:

Professional Listings

Names are grouped by Occupation Categories. Each listing begins with the computer code for the member's college chapter. (See College Chapter Roster.) The second line begins with a job title provided by the individual on the TCP career data form, followed by her name and address. Within each Occupation Category, listings are clustered by zip code, so if you want geographical—rather than occupational—information, look for zip codes of regions desired. After finding desirable listings, you then make the connection with a personal letter.

College Chapter Roster

Use the first three digits of the membership number to determine Thetas initiated in your chapter: another link.

To order a TCP Directory, see order form on back cover.

Career Connectors

Local Career Connectors serve as local TCP communicators. They solicit career information, provide career connections upon request and promote TCP. They may provide personal contacts in a specific locale. They may possibly have additional local listings added to their copies of the TCP DIRECTORY, as well as some phone numbers. In addition, they can provide information about a local alumnae chapter or club and its activities for professionals. It is not the role of the Career Connector to find jobs for individuals, but to provide contacts and information.

A list of Career Connectors and their addresses is available on request from Central Office.

Forms For Your Use

- CAREER DATA FORM: You, too, will want to be in TCP's Career Data Bank to help other Thetas.

- RESPONSE FORM: Let us know of your success and ideas for making TCP grow. This is our only way of evaluating TCP's effectiveness.

- TCP DIRECTORY ORDER FORM: Use this to order additional copies.

Central Office

Central Office staff can respond to limited inquiries and answer general questions about TCP. It is important for members to remember that Theta is not running a job placement agency. There has been confusion among some members about how much TCP can do for members. We provide a networking link to professional Thetas. Then each member must make her own direct contact with Thetas in her field.

A Reminder

Theta By-Laws prohibit use of Theta lists for commercial purposes. The women in the TCP DIRECTORY have submitted information voluntarily to help other Thetas, and it is very important that this service not be misused. It must not be used "for commercial purposes, for non-fraternal charitable appeals, for fraternal appeals or for the advocacy of personal opinions." (see RULE XI, SECTION 1)

We appreciate every Theta professional who has become part of the Theta Connection Program. TCP plants the Fraternity firmly in the world of the 1980s and, as TCP grows, it can have a strong impact on us as we enter the 21st century.

OF PEOPLE

Collegians

Elizabeth deGrazia, Epsilon Phi, was recently named the winner of a $2500 cash award as a Time College Achievement Award winner. DeGrazia, a third-year student at the University of Chicago received the award in March at a New York banquet at which she was introduced to representatives of sponsoring companies. The award was established by Time in order to recognize college juniors whose achievements outside the classroom set exemplary standards of excellence. According to deGrazia, 600 juniors from 300 colleges submitted applications. DeGrazia is currently Epsilon Phi's fraternity education chairman and is slated as the chapter's 1987-88 president.

Terese M. Gleason, Beta Pi, was inducted as a member of Sigma Theta Tau, International Honor Society of Nursing at Michigan State University on November 22, 1986 in East Lansing, Mich. Membership in the prestigious organization of leaders and scholars in nursing is awarded to bachelor's and master's nursing students who achieve high scholastic averages, and to graduates of college programs who achieve excellence in nursing leadership roles.

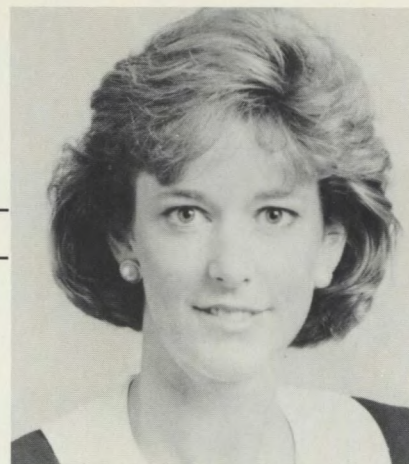

Each year, 650 young men and women travel the world with Up

With People, an international, educational and cultural program. Ten Thetas are participating in this unique program as cast members, and road and office staff: Karma Kamman, Phi/University of Pacific; Paula Duncan, Beta Delta/University of Arizona; Connie Adkins, Alpha Mu/University of Missouri; Kathy West, Delta Sigma/Ball State University; Tanya Gillikin, Delta Xi/University of North Carolina; Laurel Ward, Beta Pi/Michigan State; Annette Holt-house, Nu/Hanover College; Rhonda Myler, Alpha Rho/University of South Dakota; Pam Weiss, Gamma Gamma/Rollins College; and Stacy Parmer, Beta Gamma/Colorado State.

The Up With People participants receive valuable career skills, meet government leaders and live with host families in a variety of cultural settings while presenting a musical show. This year's show, Beat of the Future, is being performed throughout the United States and Canada, as well as Scandinavian and European countries.

Alumnae

University of Southern California graduate Eileen Cannon Paulin, Omicron, was recently promoted to group vice president for Harcourt Brace Jovanovich Publications in Cleveland, Ohio. Paulin has been with the publications group since 1980.

Eileen Cannon Paulin

Karen Bloomquist, Beta Rho, the reigning Miss North Carolina, participated in the Miss America beauty pageant, September 13, 1986 in Atlantic City, N.J. Bloomquist competed with 44 other contestants from throughout North Carolina to win her title. Her duties as Miss North Carolina include serving the state as a full-time public relations ambassador. Bloomquist received her bachelor's degree from Duke University. She is taking a one-year leave of absence from her graduate studies at Duke to fulfill her role as Miss North Carolina.

Two Theta alumnae were recently named women of the year. Jeannie Haines Livesay, Gamma Iota, was named Louisville Greek Woman of the Year by the Louisville, Ky. Alumnae Panhellenic. Oklahoma City's Alumnae Panhellenic named Linda Kennedy Rosser, Alpha Omicron, their Greek Woman of the Year in December, 1986.

OF EVENTS

Senator Nancy Landon Kassebaum, Kappa, was the guest speaker at the Kansas City Alumnae Chapter's 1987 Founders' Day luncheon in January. The welcoming committee for the group's honored guest included Diane Larson Smith, alumnae district president; Grand Vice-President Education Annetta Tiley Potts; Dianne Danford Treadwell, alumnae regional director; and Foundation President Marjorie Crane Schnacke. OF NEWS

Gamma Epsilon Chapter in London, Ontario, Canada is busy preparing for the Chapter's 50th anniversary celebration, to be held October 3 and 4, 1987. Hundreds of letters and invitations are being dispatched to Gamma Epsilon alumnae with the hope that as many as possible will participate in the events. Sarah Robertson and the celebration committee are planning a formal dinner featuring speakers who will discuss the role of women in the '80s. All those interested in attending Gamma Epsilon's 50th anniversary celebration should contact the Gamma Epsilon Chapter.

The Panhellenic of Hawaii invites Thetas and family members to join them on a seven-day cruise aboard the American Hawaii luxury liner, The Constitution. The trip is a scholarship fund-raising project for Hawaii Theta alumnae, in cooperation with the Panhellenic of Hawaii.

The Panhellenic group will cruise from October 31 to November 6, 1987 at a reduced rate, which in-

A Closer Look . . . Theta Rhythmic Gymnasts

The 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles provided some memorable moments for two Thetas who have been active in the promotion and development of the sport of rhythmic gymnastics in the United States.

Nora Hitzel, Gamma, and Sandy Frizzel, Gamma Psi, met while they were at the Rhythmic Gymnastics National Championships: Nora as a coach and Sandy as a gymnast. During a practice session, Sandy was wearing a Theta sweatshirt, which Nora immediately recognized.

Rhythmic gymnastics was added to the Olympic program for the first time in 1984 and will be added to the Pan American Games in 1987. It is one of only two sports in the world that is for women only. (Synchronized swimming also has no male counterpart.) Rhythmic gymnastics differs from the more popular artistic gymnastics, of Mary Lou Retton fame, because the gymnasts work with equipment rather than on it. Rhythmic gymnasts compete with five pieces of hand apparatus: rope, hoop, ball, clubs and ribbon.

After graduating from Butler University in 1966 with a major in physical education, Hitzel became intrigued with rhythmic gymnastics, unknown in the United States at the time. This led her to organize the United States National Rhythmic Gymnastics Committee in 1971, and to the first national championships in 1973. Hitzel is one of the few U.S. internationally ranked judges and was selected to judge for the United States at the Goodwill Games in Moscow. She was recently hired by the United States Gymnastics Federation, headquartered in Indianapolis, Ind. to serve as the organization's first national rhyth-

Frizzel joined the rhythmic movement in 1982 when the gymnastics club she attended as a high school student hosted a major rhythmic competition. Because the sport was so new, very few coaches were available and Frizzel trained herself for the next four years while a student at Texas Christian University. Remarkably, as a self-coached gymnast, she qualified for four national championships. In addition she helped to start rhythmic programs for young girls in Texas. Frizzel is currently continuing her training in Texas with the goal of qualifying for the 1987 national championships.

Although rhythmic gymnastics is still considered to be in the beginning stages of development in the United States, it is a very popular sport throughout Europe and Asia. Pioneers Nora and Sandy are sure the sport will increase in both number of participants and recognition over the next few years.

The Will To Help

The trustees of the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation are proud to recognize those Thetas who have reflected upon an important part of their lives by leaving a bequest to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation between July 1, 1983 and November 30, 1986. We gratefully appreciate their desire to help Theta perpetuate its noble ideals:

Jeanne Muter Bechtolt, Alpha Omega; Antoinette Shryock Gabriel, Alpha Sigma; Virginia Fox Golt, Alpha Gamma; Thelma Thickens Moran, Beta Gamma; Meta Ebeling Pavlik, Alpha Omega; May Corbett Smith, Epsilon; Martha Ann White, Beta Beta.

A bequest offers you a way to become a life member of the Foundation today, without an outlay of cash. Simply name the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation as a beneficiary of your estate for $1,000 or more in your will. Such a bequest is free of estate or inheritance taxes. It is important to use the legal name, which is "Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation, 8740 Founders Road, Indianapolis, Indiana 46268." The basic wording can read:

"I, _____, give and bequeath to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation, an Indiana not-for-profit corporation having its principal office at 8740 Founders Road, Indianapolis, Indiana, the sum of $ _____ for the charitable and educational purposes of said Foundation as the Board of Trustees may direct."

Please send a copy of this portion of your will to the Foundation office to receive life member status.

A bequest to the Theta Foundation continues to give to Theta over the years, since only the interest income is spent. It is never too early to consider a gift to Theta via a provision in your will. Bequests help build the strength of the Foundation to enable it to be the widest influence for good. Do you have the will to help? Please consider a bequest to the Foundation.

Foundation Director to leave position

It was with much regret that the Foundation trustees accepted the resignation of Marilyn Shanks Klingaman, Alpha, as our Foundation Director, effective June 1, 1987. Marilyn has been a guiding force for our Foundation since she first accepted the job in August 1983. She will be greatly missed.

Marilyn came to the Foundation straight from the job of chairman of the building committee for our new headquarters. There couldn't have been a more dedicated Theta in charge of seeing that our new building would be the best it could possibly be. Marilyn watched over the building's progress daily (and many times her husband, Tom, was right there watching with her).

Those of us who have worked closely with Marilyn know of the many areas she directed to insure that you have your Foundation correspondence accurate, complete, timely, and always with a caring concern for your inquiries. She has a special talent for finance and has worked closely with our financial management company to see that our investments are on target; and that the financial trust, which has been given the Foundation, is dedicated to be the best it can be. Her very special insight into the concerns of our Fraternity and its Foundation has given us all new ideas and areas we might look to for future growth.

Marilyn will be missed as director of the Foundation office but she won't be far from us. And as she finds herself back in the volunteer world, Kappa Alpha Theta will be on her doorstep looking to involve her and her very special skills. We thank you, Marilyn!
